TRUSTEE'S SALE.

The State of Mississippi,
County of Lowndes.
By virtue of the power vested in me as Trustee in a certain Deed of Trust, made and delivered on the 11th day of July, 1917, by J. C. Hackleman & Son, a firm composed of J. C. Hackleman and Carroll Hackleman, to secure the payment to Edna Johnston of certain indebtedness therein mentioned and interest thereon, record of which said Deed of Trust is made in the office of the Chancery Clerk of said County and State, in Deed Book numbered 107, Page 284, default having been made in the payment of interest on said indebtedness and a right of foreclosure thereby having accrued, at the request of the said holder of said indebtedness, I will sell at public auction, to the highest bidder for cash, in front of the Court House Door in the town of Columbus, said State and County, on Wednesday, 26th day of November, 1919, within legal hours, the following property to-wit:

That lot in the City of Columbus, Mississippi, within the following bounds: A part of Square No. Three (3) North of Main Street, more fully described as follows: commencing at a point sixty-five (65) feet South of the North West corner of Lot ten (10) in said square (3) three and from this initial point running South along Market Street (now 5th street) twenty-four (24) feet, thence East (132) One hundred and thirty-two feet, thence North (24) twenty-four feet parallel with Market (now 5th street) thence West (132) one hundred and thirty-two feet to point of beginning. Said lot being part of Lots Nine (9) and ten (10) in the said Square three (3) North of Main street, and being leasehold property held by lease from trustees of Franklin Academy for 99 years from August 1st, 1821, renewable forever. Together with all the appurtenances thereto belonging and all rights of the said J. C. Hackleman and Son therein.

The title to the above property believed to be good, but I will convey only such title as vested in me as Trustee under said Deed of Trust.
William Baldwin, Trustee

THE UNIVERSAL CAR

Ford cars are important servants everywhere. They help the family enjoy life, bring the pleasures and advantages of the town within reach of the farmer and give practical service every day in country and town. They require a minimum of attention; any one can run the Ford and care for it, but it is better to have repairs and replacements taken care of by those who are familiar with the work and have the tools, the genuine materials, and skilled men to do the work promptly. We pledge Ford owners the reliable Ford service with real Ford parts and standard Ford prices.

BANK REACHES HIGHEST MARK

National Bank of Commerce Gets Far Over Million Mark.

In a handsome advertisement in this issue of The Dispatch the National Bank of Commerce announces the passing of the million and a quarter mark in its resources.

It is believed to be the high water mark for resources of a Columbus bank, and the officials and directing influences of the bank are to be congratulated on the fine showing the bank is making.

The bank was established only seven years ago and its growth has been rapid and steady. Its high attainment is the result of splendid and sagacious management of its affairs. Read the announcement in this issue and note the constant growth of the institution through each succeeding year.

MADE REAL SPORT

Bulls Not Always Easy Victims in Arena.

One Animal So Noted for Its Fighting Qualities as to Be Deemed Invaluable—Imported Texan Furnished Excitement.

The torador has not always been the hero of the bull ring. There was once a bull that earned the plaudits of a Spanish arena on more than one occasion by clearing it of his antagonists. Strangely enough the bull neither killed nor injured any man. But he did put to flight every torador, matador, pleader, chulo or banderillero who dared to enter the ring with him; and, although the crowds came to see him slain, his conduct proved so valiant that the people demanded that his life be spared.

This bull was named Lechuzo. His first appearance in the arena was made at San Lucar. He so suddenly cleared the ring of his enemies that the people rose in admiration and demanded his release, for despite his bravery, he would have been treacherously approached and put to death in accordance with the usual practice had not the people intervened.

Again at Cordoba upon the hearing of the wounds inflicted upon him by the pleaders at San Lucar, Lechuzo drove all his enemies before him and again his life was spared at the demand of the spectators.

So in time Lechuzo began to be regarded as invincible, and finally he ended his days in peace at the age of ten years.

Some years ago a herd of Texas bulls were imported from their native land to Seville to give special attraction to a bullfight of more than ordinary importance. Those American bulls furnished the Spaniards with some interesting sport.

The first of the intended victims when confronted in the ring by horse and pleader wholly neglected the horse, but paid instant and undivided attention to the man. The bull bellowed as if from sheer delight at the anticipated encounter and attacked the pleader furiously. He pressed the fighter so hard that, defense being useless, the man sought safety in inglorious flight by scaling the barrier erected between the audience and the ring as a provision of safety.

The pleader was ardently and efficiently assisted over the barrier by the horns of the animal and was followed so closely that he narrowly escaped with his life by reaching a convenient gallery. The bull did his best to get at him, but, finding this impossible, looked about for other game.

The stone seats in the enclosure at Seville were ten feet above the ground, and this height has always been an insurmountable barrier for a bull, but this time things were different, for as soon as the Texan bull saw the throng above his head he stepped back, and the next instant he was among them.

Before the people could escape he had tossed half a dozen of them into the ring, but they were all rescued by the ring attendants. The stone seats cleared, the steer returned to the ring, and seeing no one else to whom he might throw the gage of battle, he took the exact center of the ring and bellowed his defiance to the world. Meantime the management had got busy, and a soldier with a Mauser was summoned from a nearby barracks and the bull's life was ingloriously ended.

Mud Wallows Are Hygienic. An old proverb says: "Mud does not stain." It might be completed by: "It even serves as soap, at least in Esthonia."

There are from three to five million inhabitants in Esthonia who have no soap. It is difficult, in a country where there is such a lack of transportation facilities, to assure sufficient quantities of a necessary product to a population which is greatly in need of other things besides. That is why the American Red Cross, while waiting for new supplies of soap, has instituted mud baths. Esthonian mud has no healing powers, but thanks to regular mud baths, public hygiene has improved in this country.

A very simple thing; but it had to be thought of.—From Le Figaro, Paris.

Had Advanced Rates. Whenever Warren went on an errand for auntie she invariably gave him a penny for a stick of candy. Last week she sent him to the drug store and upon his return with the desired article she, as usual, remunerated him with a penny.

"Til kept this on account," complained Warren.

"What do you mean by that?" demanded auntie.

"My charge for running an errand has gone up to a nickel," independently explained Warren. "Don't forget that the price of candy has been raised now."

His Great Idea. Frederick, aged four, has a beautiful mother, whom he very much admires. One day he accompanied his father to an art exhibition and for the first time he saw marble statuary. His father explained to him that many of the busts represented real people and how the artist cut them out of marble.

On the way home he was unusually quiet. Finally he exclaimed: "Oh, daddy, couldn't we have mother busted to marble?"
